

Look What I Can Do!

Language-Focused Toolkit for Early Childhood Programs

Available in Illinois, Michigan, and Maryland for the 2021-2022 pilot study

Look What I Can Do! Language-Focused Toolkit for Early Childhood Programs places multilingual children and their families front and center. It is a toolkit of resources for early care and education (ECE) teachers, coaches, and program leaders, who want to take a purposeful, language-focused approach, to providing equitable learning opportunities for multilingual children in their care.

ECE professionals in center-based programs serving multilingual children ages 3-4 years can use the resources in the toolkit to

- Promote equitable, language-focused relationships with families of multilingual children
- Identify multilingual children in your program
- Observe and gather information on multilingual children's language use and development across various settings and over time
- Inform language-focused planning for culturally and linguistically responsive care and instruction
- Support transitions to Kindergarten
